I was diagnosed with breast cancer in December, 2011 and had a lumpectomy in January, 2012 and 5 lymph nodes removed in March, 2012.

This cancer was detected by my annual mammogram (ordered by my OB-GYN). My cancer was very small and my margins and lymph nodes were clear. I chose not to receive any radiation and sought the advice and direction from my alternative medicine physician, Dr. Marcus Cobb.

Dr. Cobb introduced me to Poly-MVA and shared the benefits and his expertise and knowledge in dealing with my type of cancer. I started taking Poly-MVA right away. My breast surgeon was not supportive of using Poly-MVA instead of the “normal medical” protocol for treating breast that I was not taking radiation, she would have recommended a mastectomy, which shocked me. I do believe that the traditional surgeons and doctors are doing what they need to do cover their personal liability.

The Poly-MVA is now an everyday thing for me and I have found it to boost my energy level. The Poly-MVA tastes like very strong liquid vitamins and minerals and I take 2 tbs twice a day, every day.

I have had no “side effects” that I am aware of in the 12 months that I have been taking it so far. I really have no evidence that I have had cancer except for the scar on my breast and the scar near my arm pit.

Have had no pain, I have a lots of energy and my last 2 mammograms have showed no cancer. I attribute this to not taking radiation and not needing chemo and those damaging chemicals and that exposure to my body.

I also know that Poly-MVA has enabled me to have strength and energy that those common cancer treatments would have depleted from my system. Dr. Cobb has prescribed custom vitamins and supplements which he has tested me for a formulated for me personally. This combination has been working for me so far.

In May, 2012, Following my surgeries, I entered my competition motor sports season (Truck & Tractor Pulling) as I always have since 1990. In April, 2012 I worked with a therapeutic massage therapist who massaged through my scar tissue and helped me to work with my arm and movement, my left breast was affected and my left arm is my steering arm in competition and my right arm is the throttle arm. I was able to drive my 2500 horsepower two wheel drive truck in competition and never missed an event. I competed in over 30 events last summer and was the “crew chief” for my husband’s 5000 horsepower 3 engine tractor. I am responsible for starting his engines for his 40+ events that we compete with daily thru June, July and August. Needless to say, my performance only changed in that I became more tired earlier in the evening than usual. We finished the season well, I was 2nd in Region 2 and Region 4 and my husband won Region 2 and region 4 as well as the end of season Championship event.

I tell all this, because I believe that the Poly-MVA kept my energy level up and gave me confidence that I was doing the right thing because I had no pain, and no down time. We are preparing for the upcoming season, 2013, and I am happy to report that my very latest testing was negative for cancer.

I am spreading the word about Poly-MVA to my friends with breast cancer that are “ill” from their chemicals. It is hard to convince people that the physicians are not always right and their methods are their standard “protocol”.

Sometimes, thinking beyond the box and knowing what your body needs and what has caused your illness is more important than doing what every one else does. Dr. Cobb had me tested and the result was that my body was not metabolizing my estrogen, hence a breast cancer developed. He formulated my custom vitamins with a supplement that will help me metabolize my estrogen and get it out of my body thru normal body functions.

I feel that the Poly-MVA boosts my system and helps me maintain my busy lifestyle.

I am a cancer survivor for 1 year and 3 months and only looking forward from here. I will still receive my mammograms and testing to check for the return of cancer. I do not think about my cancer and dwell on the disease. It is in the back of my mind, but it is not taking over my life. I have had a great life of 58 years and I live my life to the fullest daily.

Poly-MVA gives me extra energy and I feel that I am fighting against the normal and that makes me feel empowered!

I am fortunate that I found and believe in my “alternative” physician and his methods and testing. It is all about feeding your body what it needs and finding your deficiencies and supporting those deficiencies with the nutrients and reinforcements your body needs.

The American lifestyle where we live makes it very easy to support unhealthy living and eating. Cancers and diseases develop when you don't supply your body with what it needs. When you are faced with a problem like cancer, you have to make healthy choices and sadly, it is much harder to do what is right for your body, because the easy foods are not usually the best foods for your body.

Best wishes,

Tarry
